TRPC PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It's hard to believe that one year has gone by since I became President of our club. Time sure does fly by quickly. Almost too quickly! Usually our summer break is time for a little relaxation from club business before our new season in September. This summer was a little different.

Much has been going on behind the scenes this summer. A new brochure has been designed to showcase our club and to educate the public on what this club is all about. The first usage of our new brochure will be at our club table at the Endicott Apple Festival, where we have again been invited by the ownership of Frame to Please to showcase our members' photographic works.

Our club was awarded a $2,000 educational grant from IBM. These funds will go towards the many educational programs that our club puts together throughout the year. Cindy Ruggieri was instrumental in making this possible.

The other major project that has been worked on this summer is the club's new website. It was decided by the Board of Directors earlier this year that the current website needed to be updated. A special thank you goes to Christina Rollo for her work in managing our original website. Christina has decided to move on in her life and will be greatly missed. I would like to give a big thank you to Brett Martin, Barry Biddle and Lori Scimanna for volunteering their time in helping to produce a new, sharp looking website.

On the new website, members will have the option to have their own "Member" page in which they can showcase their photographic works as well as including a personal Artist's Statement if they choose.

A speaker has been chosen for our March 2016 Teach-In. Tim Cooper has agreed to be our presenter, and his topic will be "Landscape Photography". Further details concerning his agenda for the day will follow. For those who may not be familiar with Tim Cooper, please view a short video on our website showcasing his work in HDR photography.

So as you can see, this has been a busy summer. Maybe we can relax a little next summer!

This year's program will be 'The Art of Landscape Photography' and will include some of the latest tools and techniques. More to come on this, but mark down this date on your calendar!

Tim Cooper:

Tim is a professional landscape and fine art photographer and author of several books and training DVDs. He is also a well known instructor for the Rocky Mountain school of photography.

Tim's work includes commercial and assignment photography with clients such as The North Face, The Ritz Carlton, Vasque boots, 3M, Blue Note Records. His photographs have appeared in Travel & Leisure, NY Times Magazine, Outdoor Photographer, Ebony, Modern Luxury and Private Clubs as covers, advertising, art and editorial illustration.

Tim also teaches and writes on photographic and digital technologies. He is the author of the several training videos, three books in the series of Complete Photoshop for Digital Photographers and Co-Author of Night Photography, Snapshots to Great Shots. His e-books are The Realistic HDR Image and The Magic of Painting with Light. His latest book is HDR Photography: From Snapshots to Great Shots.

TRPC RECENT FIELD TRIPS:

TRPC is a very active club. Here are some of the recent field trips from this summer.

Cornell Plantations

Club members Bill Barbuchak Bill Bay, Barry Biddle, Lori Sciamanna, Jean Stout, and Morgan Stout took a trip to Ithaca to try and capture some macro photos of Spring flowers. Unfortunately they were a bit early and found very little in bloom.

After exploring the gardens with its scarcity of blooms they moved on to explore some waterfalls in the area.

Walking upstream to the falls Bill Baburchak, Barry, Jean and Morgan took the dry route, while Bill Bay and Lori opted to cross the stream.

The club had it's walk around town on July 23, with a visit to Owego NY during their 'Farm to Fork' event along Front Street.

It was a perfect photo evening with warm temperatures and a clear sky. Thirteen club members attended and enjoyed a dinner on the deck overlooking the Susquehanna River. Participants had a choice of doing their own thing, or using a scavenger hunt with 14 different locations to hunt for and explore for the various photo ops around town. Our group caused quite a stir, with curious onlookers stopping us to ask 'what are all these photographers doing walking around Owego?'. Each participant was rewarded for their hard work with a treat from Fuddy Duddy's. It was a great summer evening outing.

Sonnenberg Gardens

On May 12th, thirteen club members and guests took a trip to Sonnenberg Gardens in Canandaigua. The day started with a meet-up for an enjoyable breakfast in Watkins Glen, after which we headed to Canandaigua. It was tulip time, and some areas were full of color, but it was still a little too soon in the season for some of the garden areas to be in bloom. However there were still plenty of photo ops with the lovely walkways, statues, the early blooms, and the beautiful mansion. The weather cooperated, and we had a great photo outing at a lovely garden.

TRPC 3rd Annual Summer Picnic

This year's TRPC picnic was held again at Ann & Rick Northrup's home on Route 26 in Glen Aubrey on Saturday August 29th.

We had another great turnout for our summer event – 20 members and guests! Attending were: Bill & Madeline Bay, Bill & Mel Baburchak, Barry & Sue Biddle, Don Costello, Geoff & Libby Gould, Tim Hill, Bob & Doris Huckabone, Jen Lasher, Bernie Lewis, Lori Sciamanna, Pat Stone, Jean Stout, Kathy Whisman, and Rick & Ann Northrup & our canine friend Clara.

Once again chicken from Phil's Chicken House was the main course and club members brought a variety of dishes and desserts to pass.

After dinner we set up for TRPC's 2nd non-competitive slideshow event. We had a range of slideshow topics, created using a few different programs with many set to music. Slideshows were submitted by: Bill Bay, Bill Baburchak; Mel Barburchak, Barry Biddle, Don Costello, Geof Gould, Tim Hill, Bob Huckabone, Jen Lasher, Rick Northrup and Jean Stout.

Everyone enjoyed the slideshows. Hopefully members were inspired to create a slide show or try different presentation styles. The non-competitive slide show has seemingly become an annual tradition.

Newsletter and Facebook

A big thank you to Pete Kofira past editor of The f-stop, the club newsletter for his many years of fine reporting. Thanks to Pete we have all been kept up-to-date with club events and photo opportunities in the area.

And another big thanks to club member Jean Stout for her timely entries to the club's FACE-BOOK page. You can get to the Facebook page through a link on the club's web site in the lower right portion of the front page. Her posts are always current and informative.

Frame To Please Show Endicott Apple Fest Day September 19, 2015

The Endicott Apple Fest Saturday Sept. 19, 2015 will also be happening during the show month and the club always has a table out in front of the store. If you can help with passing out fliers about the club and answering general photography questions and would like to help, please email Pete Kofira at mrpetek@stny.rr.com

The Apple Fest runs from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm.

4th Bob Johnston Memorial Show

We anticipate that there will be a 4th annual Bob Johnston Memorial show and competition co-sponsored by the Cooperative Gallery 213 and Two Rivers Photography Club.

There will be more details soon for this event that will take place in January 2016.

Please check the Cooperative Gallery 213 web site: www.cooperativegallery.com or the TRPC web site: www.2rpc.com for updates.

TRPC Education Opportunities

➤ TRPC six week photo class "Teaching The Art and Craft of Photography" has been completely revamped for 2015. Along with more hands-on instruction, a new teaching book and the addition of tethered camera demonstrations the new class will offer more personal interactions between the students and instructors.

The classes will start on Wednesday October 14, 2015 at 7:00 pm and continue on Wednesdays through November 11. All classes will be at the club's meeting facility at The First Congregational Church, NW Corner of Front and Main Street, Binghamton, NY

Do you have a friend or family member that has a SLR or a DSLR camera and wants to learn how to use it to its full potential? This is a great course to help you get your camera off the "AUTO" mode and into creative shooting.

For a complete course description and to register go to the club's web site at: www.2rpc.com

➤ The popular Saturday Classes will continue on Saturday mornings at the Endicott Public Library starting in January 2016. The subjects haven't been decided yet and if you have any suggestions please contact club president Bill Bay or a board member with your suggestions.

➤ The "Peer to Peer" meetings will start in late fall and continue into Winter 2016. These will also be held at the Endicott Public Library starting at 7:00 pm. Kathy Whisman will act as the chairperson and will have more details soon.

Membership Waiver For Students

Just a reminder that the club has established a Membership Waiver For Students. The waiver will allow applicants, high school or college students, to apply for a membership waiver to join the club and have full membership and competition benefits for one year.

The applicant will need to provide a statement of a few sentences why they want to join the club and what their interest and knowledge of photography is. They will also be required to submit two or three of their typical images.

Do you know any students, friend or family that would qualify for this waiver? The ideal situation would be for a member to sponsor the student but students can apply on their own and a board member will be assigned as their sponsor.

Currently the club is considering up to 5 student waivers per year. Also a special Teach-In waiver may be available if the student is a highly active participant in the club's competitions during the year that they are a member.

The application form will be available on the club web site.

Scott Kelby 8th Annual Worldwide Photo Walk on October 3, 2015

Club member and past TRPC president Bill Burchak is planning a local walk on Saturday October 3, 2015, location to be announced. Further information about location and sign-up procedure will be coming.

History of the Walk: On Saturday, October 3, 2015, photographers will gather in cities across the globe to capture a slice of life through their eyes during the 8th Annual World-wide Photo Walk. It's the world's largest global social photography event in the history of photography itself. Photographers of all walks of life and skill levels gather together, on the same day to socialize, learn new tips from each other, and explore their corner of the world through photography.

The Worldwide Photowalk was founded by Scott Kelby, president of Kelby One and a #1 bestselling photography and technology book author. He leads a walk each year in a different city and credits the success and popularity of the event to the social aspect of photography. "Photography is usually viewed as a solitary activity, but the truth of the matter is that people love to shoot together, compare notes and just have fun with photography."

NECCC 2015

New England Camera Club

Attended by: Bonnie Coy (first time attendee), Sandy Kirker, Cecelia Laurendiau, Tom Jenkins, Fran Quinlivan, Carol Saggese, Jean Stout, Morgan Stout (first time attendee) and myself Bernie Lewis.

A good time was had by all. Some of us met for breakfast before leaving town and were joined by Pat Stone and Lori Sciamanna at Cracker Barrel. We spent quite a bit of time catching up with each other. Then it was off heading north to Sturbridge Village. Great place to photograph and it was a lovely day, not too hot.

After checking into UMASS Amherst dorm rooms, some of us dined at the world famous Bub's BBQ, then back to the dorm to get ready for a weekend of photographic learning.

Friday morning several of us went to the nearby Magic Wings Butterfly Conservancy. It was a great morning, not too hot, to spend with the fluttering critters. Even the Gnome had his photo taken with one of the conservancy inhabitants.

For those of you who are unfamiliar with NECCC, it stands for New England Camera Club Council. They hold this weekend event every year. You get lots of classroom experience, plus special pre-conference sessions, hands on classes and numerous photographic opportunities, which include still life set ups, models and a Revolutionary War re-enactment. Sessions start Friday afternoon and go until Sunday afternoon.

This year our local professional, Lindsey Adler, did several presentations. Many other sessions were available on a variety of topics. Something for everyone. The special guest speaker this year, Ron Magill, was really good. He kept everyone's attention throughout the program.

Several club members participated in the Sigma Showcase. One of several competitions available to those attending the conference. Sandy Kirker, Carol Saggese and Jean Stout received special commendation for their images. Over the years our club has had success in the competitions at NECCC. Our work does stand out against many other photographers. If you would like to see the ProShow Gold program of the Sigma Showcase the link is https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IAJnaK5K_ka

Next year consider attending NECCC to expand your photographic horizons and enjoy the company of fellow photographers. The dates will be July 15,16,17. In order to extend the weekend there is an effort to find some photographic place to visit the Thursday before the conference begins.

There is no way you can come away from that weekend without learning some great things and the fellowship is a blast.

“Just One More Thing”

Barry Biddle

I want to introduce myself as the new newsletter editor. For those of you who do not know me I have been a member of the club since 2009 and am currently the Vice President.

My personal photography is mostly wildlife and flowers with some travel photography sprinkled in.

One more thing! (I seem to have inherited that phrase from our previous newsletter editor). If you have news or announcements that might be appropriate for the newsletter please email me at bbiddle@stny.rr.com.
